

TAKE THIS MAN'S ADVICE

TRY THE GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY

It always gives me pleasure to recommend anything that is right and so I feel it my duty to herald the praises of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

For years I was troubled with kidney disease and it was so intense that I was bedridden for days at a time. I gave up all hope and doctors for miles around gave me no help. Incidentally I tried several patent remedies and at last tried Swamp-Root. From the first it gave me relief and it was no time before I was able to be up and around and now I am perfectly well and able to work as I used to before my terrible sickness.

So now let me thank you for your wonderful discovery and take this opportunity to recommend it to all who suffer from kidney troubles.

Yours very truly,
WALTER SHIVER,
317 N. Main St., Hope, Ark.
Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 25th of March, 1912.
A. V. Ware, Notary Public.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do

Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the South Bend News-Times. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

CARRY STOMACH JOY
IN YOUR VEST POCKET

Wetick's Original Cut Rate Medicine Store Has Such Faith In This Dyspepsia Remedy That He Guarantees It.

One of the greatest successes in the sale of medicine has been achieved by Mi-o-na, the standard dyspepsia remedy, and its sale is increasing so rapidly that Wetick's Original Cut Rate Medicine Store, the popular druggist, has hard work to keep a stock on hand. It is very popular with bankers, ministers, lawyers and others whose business or profession keeps them closely confined, while those who have brought on indigestion through irregular eating, worry or other causes, have found relief in this reliable remedy.

Mi-o-na comes in tablet form and is sold in a metal box especially designed for convenience in carrying the medicine in the pocket or purse. It is pleasant to take, gives quick relief and should help any case, no matter of how long a standing. This remedy has been so uniformly successful that Wetick's Original Cut Rate Medicine Store will in future sell Mi-o-na under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it should not prove entirely satisfactory. No other dyspepsia medicine ever had a large enough percentage of cures so that it could be sold in this manner. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

There is no time like the present to do a thing that ought to be done. If any one has dyspepsia, today is the best time to begin curing it.—Adv.

Housewives Solve
Milk Problem

Many of the housewives of South Bend have found that they can solve the problem of keeping down expenses for milk by using Etna Evaporated Milk. One said recently, "when you realize that a tall tin can is the same as that amount of cream, you can realize the saving I make. I use it for berries, coffee, and for whipping. It whips, after being chilled, as well as double cream."

The special process under which Etna Evaporated Milk is made retains the milk taste, preventing it having the "cooked" flavor of condensed milk. The milk is not only perfectly pure, but it is completely free from germs and makes a safe food for infants. The reason for the popularity of Etna Evaporated Milk is that it is simply pure, delicious milk fresh from healthy, well-fed cows, with no sweetening added, put up in a scrupulously clean place in the heart of the greatest dairying country in the world.

Etna Milk can be recognized by the picture of the beautiful Jersey cow on the can. Many of the best grocers of the city are supplied with Etna Milk—Jacobson, Peterson, Peltz & Kauffer Co., Distributors, South Bend, Ind.—Adv.

In Treating Tuberculosis

It should be remembered that one of the aids to relief is found in abundance of fresh air—day and night—the largest possible freedom from overexertion and well-cooked, pure food.

Attention to these should do much toward arresting the progress of the malady, but in many cases there is need for extra help. Where Nature has to work with a weakened body her power is limited. Before she can do her most, there must be a return to normality of functions.

Under such circumstances, try Eckman's Alternative, which has been used with large benefit by many sufferers from tuberculosis. In numerous cases it has helped to bring about recovery. And since it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, its use is not attended with danger. At your druggist's or direct.

Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia.

How You Can Have
"Naturally Curly" Hair

If you will forewear the curling iron and follow the simple plan here suggested, you will be surprised beyond words to see not only the beautiful curl, but the soft fluffiness and lively lustre your hair will acquire. The plan—merely to apply to the hair before retiring a little pure salerine (in liquid form), using a clean tooth brush for the purpose. The most effective way is to divide the hair into strands, moistening each of them separately from root to tip. The delightful wavy effect is evidence in the morning will suggest to any stranger that your hair is "naturally curly." The effect will last a considerable time and if you'll get a few ounces of liquid salerine from your druggist you will have a supply for months. This, by the way, will leave no sticky or greasy trace and cannot harm hair or scalp in any way. The hair will be quite manageable at all times, no matter how you do it up.—Adv.

Theaters

AT THE OLIVER.

With the advent of the moving pictures came the inevitable displacement of the old style melodrama with its whispering, talking-to-himself villain and other absurdities. Then the bright dramatic writers set themselves to work to rehabilitate themselves. Shakespeare's advice to "hold the mirror up to nature" was taken by scores of brilliant writers. The result is that many good plays dealing with live topics and themes that can no longer be ignored have been produced. To the new school of dramatic writers belongs Charles Kenyon's powerful play "Kindling," which the Oliver players are presenting at this theater tonight for the last time. It is an absorbing play full of thrills, sales, laughs and human nature. It holds the auditor every minute with its powerful appeal, not alone with dialogue, but with situations that speak louder than words. The success of Margaret Hillings in the original production and the great discussion of the merits of the play, its probable influence on the rich and powerful, secured world-wide advertising. Starting with the matinee tomorrow "Our New Minister" will be the bill for the last half of the current seven days.

On Friday night there will be a good will offering, 25 per cent of the gross receipts being donated to the Good Will cause.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

In charm and interest of theme, in development and strength of story, and in magnificence and logic of production, "Nedra," the Auditorium feature for today, promises to rank with the season's most important film offerings. "Nedra" is taken from George Barr McCutcheon's novel of the same name and tells an interesting and consistent story and some wonderful scenes are shown. The typhoon at sea and the breaking up of the liner, which throws the leading characters onto the mercy of the Pacific ocean and finally onto the savage island of Nedra, are some of the thrilling pictures to be seen. Then there are the scenes on the island where hundreds of savages greet the white gods. The culmination comes when the American warship arrives, and a white boat filled with white clad men, takes away the "white gods" while long lines of bearded natives bow their heads before the crest of the American flag. These scenes were filmed in the Bahamas, and a wealth of tropic vegetation is said to frame the island pictures. Other scenes are set in New York drawing rooms and on ship-board.

"A Case of Eugenics," a Vitaphone comedy, with Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew, is on the same bill. "Tomorrow's program" includes "When Youth is Ambitious," "Itsky the Inventor," "Neal of the Navy" and the Selig weekly.

AT THE LASALLE.

Today's picture at the LaSalle features Theda Bara, one of the popular screen stars of the day, in a late production of "Carmen". As an opera this Spanish romance has had a wide popularity. Theda Bara, in the title role, gives original, wild, free, untrammeled version of the Spanish beauty, departing from all familiar well trodden paths. Elmer Linden plays Jose, the sweetheart of Carmen, and in the heavy scenes his performance is said to be excellent. On Thursday the LaSalle will show Francis Bushman and Marguerite Snow in a charming romance entitled, "The Silent Voice". Mr. Bushman plays a talented and wealthy young musician, suffering the sudden loss of his hearing. Deeply sensitive to his deafness he hides from his acquaintances and after a series of adventures meets a wealthy society girl and the romance ends happily.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Final performances will be given today at the Orpheum of the current bill of vaudeville. Beginning tomorrow the new bill will consist of a musical comedy entitled, "Tickets Please". This is one of the latest productions of William Friedlander, who is responsible for "The Night Clerk" and other interesting musical tabloids. This production was prepared especially for vaudeville and while telling an interesting story, introduces a number of musical specialties by a company of 25 people, the majority of whom are pretty girls. Special settings include an elaborate railroad station which adds interest to the story. Billie Kent is one of the featured members of the cast and the singing and dancing chorus has been selected for their good looks and ability.

AT THE STRAND.

With succeeding performance of "One Day in Paris" the Perry and Janese Co. have introduced bolsterous comedy scenes, rounded out the eccentric character and are giving performances that meet with the enthusiastic applause of the Strand audiences. The popular song numbers continue to please and the final performances today promise to be the best of the engagement so far.

Beginning Thursday a new bill will be offered entitled, "The Colonel's Troubles," a military farce comedy with plenty of song selections.

A scene from "The Birth of a Nation," at the Oliver Theater for one week, Starting Monday, November 29.

HELMETS ARE NOW IN USE IN BRITISH ARMY

New Use For Knives in Warfare.
Used as Trench Cleaners
After Assaults.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The official announcement that steel helmets have at last been adopted in the British army is a welcome indication of what has already proved a great success amongst the French troops. An officer under Gen. Castelnau, in Champagne, has lately written testifying to the great utility of these and similar ancient and modern devices for protection in the trenches. The helmets are covered with the same grey blue cloth as the uniform, and even the water bottles and other equipment are treated in like manner. The use of the helmets has now become universal.

A new use has been found for knives by what are called the "trench cleaners" who, after the first line has passed with the bayonet, follow on and dispatch such of the enemy as offer resistance. These knives are described as a part of knuckle-duster, the blade being strapped to the back of the hand, and can be effectively used either as a weapon of offense or defense.

LONDON FASHIONABLES
ARE HARD HIT BY WAR

Few Women Have Given Up Their Maid's But They Send Them to Do War Work.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The war taxes are hitting what used to be called fashionable society rather heavily, but there is little grumbling, for society has deeply altered its chief characteristics, which before the war was an abnormal self-centredness. Its principal problem now is largely what to give up without injuring some one depending on it.

Young men servants are a thing of the past, and the number of women now driving their autos is sufficient testimony of the elimination of the chauffeur. Many fashionable women have even started garages, where other women of their own class can be taught the complete control of the auto, which are mostly used now for the benefit of the wounded and the convalescent. The many large hospitals financed by private enterprise are another call on the rich.

Few women have given up their maid, but instead of employing them exclusively to attend to their wardrobes, they send them to do war work for three or four afternoons each week, or employ them in making comforts for the troops.
